Communications Academy 2019

April 13-14, 2019

Communications Response to Catastrophic Events!

Call for Presentations for the 2019 Conference is now open!

We are looking for members and other public/private emergency management professionals to deliver high-quality presentations on the newest and best practices in all phases of emergency communication and emergency management. The direction of this year's conference is "Communications Response to Catastrophic Events"

Presentations addressing communications response and recovery activities, or newer technologies that apply to emergency communications will take priority in final decisions. We encourage sessions that incorporate active participation by attendees.

Call for Presentations Closes December 15, 2018!
